NEXT U. C. V. GRAND REUNION

WILL BE HELD AT LOUISVILLE, BE-GINNING MAY 30.

June 3, the Birthday of Jefferson Davis, will be set apart for Special Observances.

General Orders No. 223.

Headquarters United Confederate Veterans, New Orleans, La., December 6-1. The general commanding announces that under the custom established by the association, leaving the date of the next annual meeting and reunion, which is to be held in the city of Louisville, Ky., to the general commanding and the department commanders, by unanimous agreement, the next reunion will be held on the following dates: May 30, 31 and June 1, 2 and 3, 1900, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, respectively, which dates have been submitted to "Our Host" and accepted in.

On account of the rapid growth of the association and the immense accumulation of important business which will be presented to the delegates for their consideration, and which will demand urgent attention at the coming session, four days will be given to the business meeting, unless such matters are sooner disposed of, and as the grand old commonwealth of Kentucky gave Mr. Jefferson Davis to the Confederacy, he having seen the light of day on the 3d of June, 1806, at the spot where the Baptist church of Fairview is now located, in what was formerly Christian town in Todd county, Ky., and as Sunday, June 3, 1900, will be the ninety-second anniversary of his birth, that day will be especially set apart for religious and memorial services to be held in memory of Mr. Davis. "The Daughter of the Confederacy," and of the thousands of peerless private soldiers and illustrious commanders and leaders of the Confederacy who have gone "to join the fathers among the stars."

AS ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

Fourth of the Star Course Entertainment at Turner Hall.

The fourth of the series of entertainments which was given under the management of the Young Men's Christian Association at Turner hall last night was largely attended, and proved to be perhaps the most enjoyable of the series so far given.

Mr. Frank Robertson, who has traveled in nearly every land of the world, presented a series of views through the aid of his excellent stereopticon illuminating his travels through perhaps the most picturesque land in the old world.

He commenced by asking the attention of the audience to his picture of the city of London, New York, and with a series of views combined with a most entertaining and instructive continuous lecture, carried them with him, first for an introduction to the Norwegian people and their customs, then, step by step, through the beautiful scenic land until he had them almost chills as they viewed the continuous ice and snow of the Northern land of the midnight sun.

The views were wonderfully clear and distinct, and the effect was all the more delightful for the reason of the magnicent scenic subjects he had chosen. His descriptions as the lecture proceeded were better than a book of travel on account of an admirable eloquence of delivery, coupled with the choice of English diction. It was a very acceptable pictorial history of the country with many incidents told in an hour and a half to an almost spellbound audience, whose general impression was that it was a most delightful evening's enjoyment.
